To Grocers.

We have direct proof that peddlers of washing-powders say that the stuff they're selling is "made in the same factory" as Pearline—and that buying from them will save going to, or ordering from, the grocery store. Do you want people "saved" that. You have these same washing-powders in stock. Possibly you are giving them out, whenever you can, in place of Pearline. You are trying to push them into notice; they are trying to crowd you out. You think you are "making more money on them." But will it pay you, in the end?

Send it Back — Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back. JAMES PYLE, New York.

ANNEXATION OF HAWAII.

The Opponents Working Up a Little Game for Effect.

Will Try to Influence United States Senators Who Are Going There.

Natives Will Have Mass Meeting with All the Dramatic Effects.

Honolulu, via Victoria, B. C., Sept. 8. The annexationists are very much worried over the discovery of an alleged attempt on the part of the anti-annexationists to influence Senators Morgan and Quay, who are expected to arrive here soon on a tour of investigation.

They say that Senators White, of California, and Thurston, of Nebraska, who will lead the fight against annexation in Congress this winter, will also visit Hawaii and attend the mass meeting of natives which it is alleged by the annexationists had been called for the purpose of convincing the Senators that the natives bitterly oppose annexation.

It is also alleged that the mass meeting will be conducted entirely by Hawaiians and will be made as dramatic as possible.

It is believed that the ex-Queen may arrive on the same steamer as the Senators and that she will address the people at the mass meetings.

The second card of the anti-annexationists will be played on the arrival here late in September of Senators Pettigrew, of South Dakota, Mantle, of Montana, and Cannon, of Utah. They are now in Japan and China studying the silver question.

KLONDIKE GOLD COMING.

Immense Amount on the Way—Mines the Richest on Earth.

San Francisco, Sept. 8. According to the information brought by steamer National City from St. Michaels an immense amount of Klondike gold is on its way from the mouth of the Yukon to San Francisco and the sound.

The National City reached here after a voyage of 11 days from St. Michaels, bringing three passengers who had just made the trip down the Yukon, besides important letters from the Klondike region. One letter received by O. Murray, of this city, from Dr. J. W. McKennan, says:

"We leave tomorrow for the Yukon. Two steamers arrived last night from Dawson loaded with wealth. The mines are the richest on earth. Men can get $20 per day, but they must have provisions as they are scarce."

Captain Anderson, of the National City, says he knows that a large amount of gold came down the river from Dawson, but he could not give figures as the miners were very reticent about their work. The captain said the Excelsior left St. Michaels for San Francisco and he believed she will arrive sometime today.

Meeting of N. E. Passenger Association.

New York, Sept. 8. At a meeting of the New England Passenger Association today at the Manhattan hotel, with President Weeks presiding, the following roads were represented: Boston & Albany, Bangor & Aroostook, Boston & Maine, Central Vermont, Fall River Line, Fitchburg, Grand Trunk, Maine Central, New England, N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. (Old Colony system), N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. (New Haven system), Norwich Line, Providence & Stonington Line.

A number of small matters were attended to, and in the afternoon the application of the Merchants' Association of New York for New England rates created a great deal of discussion.

President Wm. F. King of the Merchants' Association spoke in favor of the application. He used the same argument as he did before the Trunk Line Association.

"We discussed the question of making a reduced rate for members of the Merchants' Association from all New England points in all its bearings," said Chairman Weeks, after the meeting, "but did not come to any conclusion as several of the passenger agents wished to discuss the matter more fully with the officers of their companies. In view of the fact that a rate from Boston to New York was recently refused I do not think that the present application will be granted."

Yellow Fever Scare Abating.

Washington, Sept. 8. Surgeon Gen. Wyman, of the Marine Hospital service, reported today to the Secretary of the Treasury that the supposed yellow fever scare in the South had very much improved. The surgeon general said that the authorities had the matter well in hand and he anticipated no further trouble. In case of necessity the Marine hospital service has $476,000 which could be used to stamp out disease.

Cantons Entertained.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 8. Worcester Canton, Patriarchs Militant, today entertained Ridgely Canton, of Portland, Me., Eagle Canton, of Haverhill, and Hebron Canton, of Fitchburg, with a street parade in the morning, a clambake and athletic sports at Lake Quinsigamond this afternoon and a banquet this evening.

Officers Re-elected.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 8. At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Odd Fellows' Home held in this city today, President Wm. E. Ford, of Boston, was unanimously re-elected. Secretary John V. Perkins, of Boston, and Treasurer Julius L. Clark, of Newton, remain in office as ex-officio members of the board through their official connection with the grand lodge.

Fire at Boston & Maine Sheds.

Boston, Sept. 8. Fire broke out in shed No. 3 of the Boston & Maine R. R. Company in Charlestown at one o'clock this afternoon. The fire started from causes unknown at present. The total loss will be about $4,000, one-half of which is on the building and the rest on the stock of 150 tons of hay, owned by C. & G. W. Eddy.

Colorado Midland Sold.

Denver, Col., Sept. 8. The Colorado Midland railroad, now in the hands of a receiver, was sold at auction today at Colorado City under order of the court. There was but one bidder, Chairman Olcott, of the reorganization committee, representing the bondholders. The property was sold to him for $295,000.

To Care for Yellow Fever Patients.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 8. Stewart Richardson, of the United States Marine Hospital of this city, has been ordered to Ocean Springs, Miss., to care for yellow fever patients. This is owing to the yellow fever outbreak there. The orders were received from the Treasury Department today.

Provision for Free Entry of Teams and Carriages.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 8. A circular from the customs department to collectors states that all teams and carriages engaged in the transportation business may come into Canada free of duty upon reporting on their return within thirty days.

DROWNED FROM A YACHT.

Popular Portland Young Man Lost Life Near Peak's Island.

Portland, Me., Sept. 8. Thomas A. Hurlburt, of the firm of Hurlburt Brothers, druggists of this city, was drowned near Peak's Island at about 5.30 this evening.

Hurlburt was one of a party of five, who were returning from the island on the schooner Mildred. He was sitting on the bowsprit, and fell overboard unobserved by the others who were in the boat. When his loss was discovered he had disappeared from view. He was seen to fall from the boat by his brother, who was watching the yacht from the shore, but he was unable to attract the attention of the other members of the party.

Hurlburt was about 27 years of age and one of the most popular young business men of the city. He leaves a wife, and his father and mother are both living, the father being a member of the party on the yacht.

Fair at North Berwick.

North Berwick, Me., Sept. 8. There were nearly four thousand people at Pine Grove Park today, this being the second day of the North Berwick society's fair. The agricultural exhibit is one of the finest seen in York county thus far this season, while the display in the art department eclipses all previous efforts.

Six heats finished both trotting events this afternoon. There were ten starters in the 2.50 class and six in the 2.30 class. The winner in the 2.50 class was Baby, b. g., J. A. Piercy, Rochester, F. H., first; Madge, b. m. (Roberts and Pitts) Alfred, Me., second; Prince, b. g., C. W. Davis, Dover, N. H., third; Warren G., b. g., Frank Smith, Rochester, N. H., fourth. Best time, 2.34¼.

The winner in the 2.30 class was Jubmont, b. g., F. R. Sargent, Rochester, N. H., first; Gano Wilkes, ch. g., J. E. Kent, East Denmark, second; Pilot Wilkes, blk. g. (A. M. Newbert) Rockport, Me., third; Baby S., C. J. Russell, Brickfield, Me., fourth. Best time, 2.28¼.

Somerset Railroad Company.

Oakland, Me., Sept. 8. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Somerset Railroad Company was held at the offices in Oakland this afternoon. F. W. Hill, Exeter; B. P. J. Weston, Madison; A. J. Libby, Embden; John Ayer, W. M. Ayer, Oakland; R. W. Dunn, W. M. Dunn, E. F. Webb, Waterville; Omar Clark, Carratunk; A. R. Small, Oakland, and Thomas Flint, San Juan, Cal., were elected directors, and by them John Ayer was re-elected president; R. W. Dunn, vice president; W. M. Ayer, superintendent; A. R. Small, clerk and treasurer, and H. W. Greeley, auditor and paymaster.

The treasurer's report showed slightly less business than in '95-'96, owing to the shutting down of industries which are now operating. Expenses for the year were increased by $10,000 owing to washouts by freshets. Twelve box freight cars have been added to the rolling stock.

The Readfield Fair.

Readfield, Me., Sept. 8. At the county fair today there was a large attendance, including a big train load of Oakland people and many others from Augusta who went on coaches and smaller rigs. A good part of the day was devoted to the examination of family and driving horses. For family horses, a horse shown by Harry Alexander, North Belgrade, was first; mare shown by J. M. Dameron, Oakland, second; mare shown by C. T. Swift, Wayne, third.

For gentlemen's driving horses, Bon Ton, shown by Harry Fuller, West Gardiner, was first; horse shown by L. C. Berry, North Monmouth, second; Atkinson, shown by A. W. Underwood, Fayette, third.

The Gorham Fair.

Gorham, Me., Sept. 8. About nine thousand people attended the fair here today, 1200 of whom were from Westbrook.

The 2.27 pace, continued from Tuesday, purse $200, was won by Lucky Boy, b g (I. P. Woodbury). Benvenuto Roone, b g (Dr. S. Fandulz), second. Best time 2.34¼.

The 2.20 trot was won by China Boy.

The 2.37 trot was taken in straight heats by Arthur Cleveland, b s, (I. P. Woodbury); Harrison Boy, b g, (J. S. Chaplin), second; Silkoy, ch f, (C. H. Nelson), third, and Belle Harbinger, ch m, fourth.

A Brutal Assault.

Macon, Ga., Sept. 8. Miss Sally Chapman, living at 153 First street with her half brother, J. C. McIlvale, was assaulted in her bedroom by an unknown man between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning.

Miss Chapman is a handsome young woman about 20. She was sleeping in the same room with a nine-years old girl. This morning she was aroused from a sound sleep by feeling a hand on her throat and saw a dim form bending over her. She tried to scream but her assailant closed his hand on her throat and choked her. He afterwards escaped through the window.

There is not the slightest clue to the assailant. This is the second assault of a like nature in the last two weeks in this city.

Fight Stopped by Police.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 8. The McCoy-Ryan fight was stopped by the police in the fifth and declared a draw.

The Alhambra rink, where the fight was held tonight, was crowded with more than 3500 people.

There was a big gathering of prominent sports and the betting at the ringside, while it was by no means lively, showed the interest taken in the bout. The odds were still $1000 to $700 in McCoy's favor when the fight began.

The gong sounded at 10.06. Some lively fighting was done.

Interest on Atchison Adjustment Bonds.

New York, Sept. 8. The directors of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe R. R. Co. have decided to pay 3 per cent. interest on the adjustment bonds for the year ending June 30 last.

Local Forecast.

Boston, Sept. 8. Forecast for Boston and vicinity Thursday: Fair and warmer, southwest winds.

FRIGHTFUL.

Frightful Collision of Two Trains on Same Track.

Twelve or Fifteen People Killed and as Many More Injured.

Boilers of the Locomotives Exploded and the Cars Took Fire.

William J. Bryan One of Passengers, but Was Not Hurt.

Emporia, Kan., Sept. 8. Twelve men were killed and as many more badly hurt in a collision on the Santa Fe road near here this evening.

The Santa Fe fast mail coming east and the Mexico and California train going west, collided head on.

All three of the locomotives exploded.

W. J. Bryan was on the west bound train, but was not hurt.

Details of the Disaster.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 8. A special to the Times from Emporia, Kan., says:

One of the worst wrecks in the history of the Santa Fe road occurred three miles east of here at 7.30 o'clock tonight. Twelve or fifteen persons were killed and as many more badly hurt.

The fast mail train going east and the Mexico and California express westbound collided head on. The Mexico and California express was pulled by two locomotives and when they struck the engine drawing the fast mail, the boilers of all three engines exploded and tore a hole in the ground so deep that the smoking car of the west bound train went into top of the three engines, and two mail cars and balanced there without turning over.

The passengers in the smoking car escaped through the windows. The front end of this car was enveloped in a volume of stifling smoke and steam rushing up from the wreck below and the rear door was jammed tight in the wreck of the car behind.

The wreck caught fire from the engines and the cars in the hole and the smoking cars were quickly burned to ashes. In climbing out of the smoking car several men fell through the rifts in the wreck below and it is impossible to tell whether they escaped or were burned to death.

The west bound train carried seven or eight coaches and its passengers included many excursionists who had been to hear Hon. W. J. Bryan speak at the county fair in Burlingame. Mr. Bryan himself was on the train but was riding in the rear Pullman. He states that nothing but a heavy jolt was experienced by the passengers in his coach.

Mr. Bryan was one of the most energetic men in the crowd of rescuers. He helped to carry out the dead and wounded and gave the greatest attention to their care.

One poor fellow who was badly maimed called to Mr. Bryan and said: "I went to hear you today. I am dying and want to shake your hand and say God bless you. If you possibly can, Mr. Bryan, get me a drink of water."

Mr. Bryan went into the fast mail car, one end of which was burning, and came out with the drink of water which he gave to the suffering passenger. He brought out cushions for others of the injured and was everywhere present to minister to the wants of the suffering.

It is feared that nearly all of the seven mail clerks perished in the disaster, but so far only six bodies have been taken from the wreck.

List of Dead.

Those dead are:

Jim Brennan, engineer, Topeka.

Nate Hollister, fireman, Topeka.

J. F. Souders, Kansas City, express messenger, body almost consumed by fire.

Wm. Frisby, engineer.

R. A. Doran, Emporia, postal clerk.

—— Gonzales, fireman, west bound train.

Unknown tramp.

J. C. Bragman, Topeka.

The Injured.

Among the seriously injured are:

Claude Holliday, Lawrence, express messenger, both legs broken.

John Dagan, Topeka, face smashed.

J. T. Butler, county attorney, Chase county, hip broken, may die.

Wm. F. Jones, Kansas City, leg and arms broken.

B. P. Metik, Atchison, badly bruised.

Philip Schuer, Kansas City, hip crushed.

C. A. Van Vleit, brakeman, Kansas City, badly bruised.

Wm. Patrick, Kansas City, leg and arm broken.

C. D. Adams, City of Mexico, painfully bruised.

Mike Sweeney, Gainsville, Texas, back hurt.

Of the seven or eight cars making up the Mexico and California express, only the mail, baggage and express and smoking cars were destroyed. The coach following the smoker was badly splintered.

"There were not more than a dozen people on the fast mail, all in one coach, and while none of them was seriously injured, the shaking up was terrible. Every seat in the coach was torn from floor and many floor planks came up through the seats.

One man, John Sweeney, was thrown over three seats and through a window, but escaped with only scratches and bruises. The other cars of the fast mail train, a baggage and express, were totally wrecked.

It is stated that the wreck was caused by a miscarriage of orders from the train master. At Emporia the eastbound fast mail train received orders to pass the California express at Lange, seven miles east. Another order was sent to Lange for the California express to take the siding there, but this order was not delivered and the west bound train passed on, the trainmen expecting to pass the fast mail at Emporia.

A ROLLER BOAT.

The Knapp Freak Launched at Toronto.

Toronto, Sept. 8. The much talked of Knapp roller boat was launched here this afternoon in the presence of a great crowd of spectators.

The vessel, which is cylindrical, is 110 feet long and 25 feet in diameter. At each end are two sixty horse power engines.

Mr. Knapp, the designer, by means of the principle of rolling over the water, instead of ploughing through it, expects to shorten the time of a voyage across the Atlantic to two days. The vessel cost $10,000 and was built by George Goodwin, a wealthy contractor, and Postmaster General Mulock.

Rather Tame Races.

Saugus, Mass., Sept. 8. The races at Franklin Park this afternoon were rather tame. The 2.35 pace, brought over from yesterday required four additional heats, Pure Red winning all.

Woodshed won the 2.11 pace.

AN EXCITING RACE

Which Was Not Down on the Card at Fleetwood on Wednesday.

New York, Sept. 8. The sensation today at Fleetwood Park was not in the programme. It consisted of a most exciting running race between a trotting horse to sulky and mounted Policeman Frowley, in the first heat of the 2.17 class for trotters. As soon as the word was given for the heat, the bay stallion Bellton, with John Kelly in the sulky started on a wild gallop. Kelly pulled until the reins broke and then stuck to his seat in the sulky as the horse went sailing ahead of the entire field. At the head of the stretch Frowley put spurs to his horse and the race to the wire was close and exciting. They shot past it like a team and the policeman leaned out and catching the reins stopped the flying steed.

While this exciting race had been in progress the fleet bay gelding King Chimes had got his head in front and won the heat easily by two lengths with Miss Gatewood second and Valence third. The betting before the first heat was Valence $25 to the field $16. King Chimes won the next two heats easily, though in the third Geers made a resolute drive with Valence but was half a length behind the winner.

Between the heats the chestnut mare Marion Mills, who paces without sulky or driver, went an exhibition mile. She did it in the remarkable time of 2.07¼.

Only four starters responded to the bell in the $3000 2.30 class. The Monk was a hot favorite at $50 to $10 for the field. Nancy Time had the pole and she acted so well that in spite of one of Geer's finishes with The Monk she landed at the wire the first by half a length. In the second heat the mare failed again to the head of the stretch, but a little break settled her chances and The Monk won by a length. In the next heat The Monk won by four lengths and he landed again easily, owing to Nancy Time's repeated breaks. For a grand circuit meeting the attendance was light, though the betting was lively. FOREIGN NEWS.

Forces Advancing.

Suakim, Sept. 8. There is great rejoicing here at the news received of the fall of Berber.

The measures to establish communication between Suakim and the Anglo-Egyptian forces along the Nile are rapidly advancing. The dervishes have withdrawn their eastern outposts and are concentrating on the Nile with Metemmeh as their northernmost post.

Officially Denied.

Madrid, Sept. 8. It is officially denied that the premier, Gen. Azarragua, has written to the leaders of the political parties saying that the government of Havana would prefer war with the United States to the intervention of that country in the affairs of Cuba.

The Stock Market.

New York, Sept. 8. The stock market today was very irregular but it was much less under manipulation than for over a week past and the general tone was one of strength.

Northern Pacific preferred was rather a drag on the market all day today, and lost a point. The decision of the Atchison directors to pay 3 per cent. on the adjustment bonds out of the earnings for the year ending June 30, directed attention to the securities of that company. The preferred stock was pushed down by realizing sales for some time past, opened off ½ but rose at one time 2¼ points from the lowest. Profit taking at the close reduced its net gain to 1¼ per cent.

New York Central lost a point in the early dealings but more than recovered it on the publication of the statement of August earnings showing an increase of $350,210. The grangers moved very narrowly all day and showed a large falling off in activity except St. Paul. Sugar was subject to a rush to realize when it became known that the directors had declared only the regular quarterly dividend of 3 per cent. on the common and 1¾ per cent. on the preferred stock. It had been rumored that an extra dividend would be declared. The preferred stock fell over 2 points.

Notable gains were made by the Lead stocks, the common gaining nearly 2 points and the preferred 3 points. Illinois Central gained two on reports of large increase in the earnings. Louisville, Southern pfd and Mobile & Ohio recovered a point or over of their early depression which was due to the yellow fever scare. There was some movement in stocks of soft coal roads on prospects of a settlement of the miners' strike. Wheeling & Lake Erie pfd gained 2¼.

Notable gains were Canadian Pacific 3. Chgo. & Eastern Illinois tec, and Cleveland, C.C. & St. L. pfd 3. Cotton oil lost a point. Iowa Central pfd 1¼. Oregon Navigation pfd a point.

Dealings in bonds were of large proportions, and at higher prices. Total sales $4,500,000. The Atchison, Northern Pacific and Union Pacific, Denver & Gulf issues absorbed the bulk of the dealings.

United States bonds were higher, the old 4s coupon being quoted at 112¼ bid, a rise of ¼.

Ætna Wreck Victims Doing Well.

Newport, Me., Sept. 8. This has been a good day for the wounded of the Ætna railway accident Sunday, and the physicians attending give out the report that all are now expected to recover. They further state that many of the newspaper reports pertaining to these people have been greatly exaggerated and have not come from them.

John Jacob Can Stand the Loss.

New York, Sept. 8. John Jacob Astor's electric launch was sunk in the North River off 34th street today by coming in collision with the steamboat Mary Powell, which was bound down from Kingston, N. Y. The engineer of the launch, a Norwegian, was rescued from the water by the crew of the steamboat. Capt. Anderson, of the Mary Powell, claims the accident was due to the carelessness of the launch's engineer, who was alone in the frail craft.

Victims of the Concord Tragedy.

Boston, Sept. 8. It was learned at the Massachusetts General Hospital today that Carl Butters, one of the victims of the Concord tragedy of Saturday, is improving. John Harris, the murderer, shows no change and his condition remains the same. A special police officer from Concord is constantly at the bedside and if Harris begins to regain his strength sufficiently a warrant will be taken out for his removal to jail at Cambridge to answer the charge of murder.

Operators Active.

Pittsburg, Sept. 8. The coal operators are unusually active getting their mines ready for operations. Many are ready for a start to-morrow. No trouble is expressed as to the belief that the convention at Columbus and an order declaring the strike off, is expected before the close of the day.

Hood's Pills

Are gaining favor rapidly. Business men and travellers carry them in vest pockets, ladies carry them in purses, housekeepers keep them in medicine closets, friends recommend them to friends. 25c.

SURPRISE IN LUETGERT TRIAL

Prosecution Seems to Have Several Up Its Sleeve.

Knife Belonging to Luetgert Produced in Court and Identified.

Alleged to Have Been the Instrument Used to Kill His Wife.

Chicago, Sept. 8. The defense in the Luetgert trial were surprised by a move of the state today.

What is considered to be one of the strongest pieces of evidence in the trial was introduced.

Mrs. Feldt, Luetgert's one-time sweetheart, was again called by the State. Attorney McEwen handed her a rusty pocket knife. She testified that Luetgert gave it for safe keeping on the day of his arrest.

The prosecution asserts it was with this knife that Luetgert murdered his wife.

Luetgert handled the knife but showed no emotion.

BEHRING SEA COMMISSION.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper Continues His Address.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 8. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper continuing his address before the Behring Sea commission on the question of the importance of the flag displayed by a vessel as a badge of nationality quoted from a letter from Mr. Bayard to the British ambassador in 1886 which supported the argument.

In the discussion at Paris it was admitted by United States counsel that if the regulations destroyed pelagic sealing in the Behring sea American and Canadian vessels could easily avail themselves of the protection of a flag other than those of the two above countries. In 1894 the commander of the United States navy in Behring sea issued orders by which all vessels other than those displaying British and American flags should be warned if within the limits specified in the President's proclamation and if again found trespassing that the vessels should be seized, etc. This order was immediately revoked by the Secretary of State.

He claimed to have shown that the ships seized were British ships, no matter what municipal laws might be brought to bear on the contention that they were not vessels of that nationality.

He disputed what he termed the remarkable claim of the United States that it was within the province of that country to seize any American vessel, no matter what her nationality, in support of his contention calling to his support so eminent an authority as Wm. Beech Lawrence in his treatment of "visitation and search."

BASE BALL.

Both Boston and Baltimore Won on Wednesday—Other Games.

Boston, Sept. 8. The tail-enders could do but little with Klobedanz after the first inning. He was magnificently supported, while just the opposite was the case with Pitcher Hart. The redeeming feature of the visitors' playing was the fine work of Cross at short. He made two wonderful pick-ups and his work was clean cut throughout. Lowe, Hamilton, Stahl and Duffy excelled in fielding and Lowe and Tenney did the best batting.

Score: Boston, 17; St. Louis, 5. Hits, 17 to 13. Errors, 0 to 6. Batteries, Klobedanz, Hickman and Bergen; Hart and Douglass.

Champions Won Dull Game.

Baltimore, Sept. 8. The champions took the first of this series from Louisville in a dull and uninteresting game. Waddell pitched a good game but worked against some hard luck. Nops' pitching was brilliant and but for Stenzel's error in allowing Clingman's grounder to go through him the Colonels would have been shut out. Score, Baltimore 5, Louisville 1. Hits, 11 to 5. Errors, 1 each. Batteries, Nops and Richardson; Waddell and Schreongost.

Phillies Fell Over Themselves.

Philadelphia, Sept. 8. Remarkable running catches by Everett and Ryan, coupled with a comedy of errors on the part of the Philadelphians in the ninth inning, resulted in a victory for Chicago today. The finish was quite exciting. Score: Chicago, 6; Philadelphia, 5. Hits, Chicago, 10; Philadelphia, 13. Errors, Chicago, 1; Philadelphia, 3. Batteries, Friend and Kittredge; Orth and McFarland.

Cincinnati Won at Brooklyn.

Brooklyn, Sept. 8. Cincinnati won a well played game from the Brooklyns this afternoon. Dwyer, who was in the box for the Reds, was at his best. Dunn was hit hard but with proper support would probably have won his game. A. Smith's catch of Miller's fly in the first inning was the star play of the game. Score: Brooklyn, 2; Cincinnati, 4. Hits, 7 to 12. Errors, 3 to 3. Batteries, Dunn and Grim; Dwyer and Schriver.

At New York—New York, 8; Pittsburg, 7.

At Washington—First game, Washington, 8; Cleveland, 7. Second game, Washington, 16; Cleveland, 2. (Forfeited to Washington in the fifth inning, score 9 to 0.)

At Newport—First game, Newport, 8; Taunton, 6. Second game, Newport, 9; Taunton, 3.

At Pawtucket—Pawtucket, 7; Fall River, 6. 10 innings.

America's Oldest Mansion.

On the east bank of the Hudson river, not half a mile below Albany, stands a remarkable house, whose frame should preserve it from destruction. A bronze tablet affixed to the front wall declares it to have been erected in 1642, and that it is the oldest dwelling in the United States in a state of preservation. This tablet was placed there by a committee at the time of the bi-centennial celebration of Albany as a chartered city in 1886 and is considered trustworthy information.

The house was the homestead of the Van Rensselaer family and for over two and a half centuries has been known as the Crailo Manor House. The house is a two story and attic brick structure and until within a decade was in an excellent state of preservation. It is a most substantial construction and the walls are of great thickness. The beams of hewn pine are of unusual size, many measuring sixteen inches square. During the life of the house practically the entire history of the United States has been made. Perhaps the most interesting feature about the outside of the house are the two remaining of the nine original stone loopholes through which the Dutchmen of that day protruded their firearms when repelling an attack from the Indians and other hostile parties.

While the Dutchmen of the settlement were generally on friendly terms with the Mohawks—the tribe inhabiting that section—the settlers often had to endure raids from the nomadic Mohegans, or River Indians, and it was their stone-headed arrows which left their marks in many places about the building's exterior.

Since 1693 the Manor house has been the property of the estate of Jane Van Shaick, who died in Albany in that year, soon after she had acquired title through mortgage foreclosure. The lack of a tenant resulted in negligence of the premises, and village vandals gained entrance by removing boards from the windows, and they not only injured the fire places, but made way with the stairs and whatever they could move. The New York Chapter of the Society of Colonial Dames tried by means of a fair to secure funds with which to purchase the house, but the attempt was unsuccessful, and thus the matter rested. On August 4 the house was sold in partition suit. The purchaser was John Circhenacher, and the price paid was $4,300.

"Walk in and look around."

A Tale of a Gravestone.

An Oxford County marble worker spent a bad couple of hours the other day. He had been to a cemetery at quite a distance to set a stone, and when the work was done his customer handed him the pay—two ten dollar bills and a five. They were standing at the time within a dozen feet of the highway. In order to get the bills out of his hand temporarily while he receipted for them, he laid them on the ground and pulled a little stone on to the end of them. Then they went off to look at a stone in another part of the cemetery, and then Mr. Gravestone Man unhitched his horse and drove home, arriving about 2 p. m.

About 3 o'clock he had occasion to open his pocket book, and that money wasn't there. He thought a minute, and remembered where he had left it, and resolved to start right back. His wife said:

"It won't be a bit of use. It was right beside the road where you left it, in plain sight, and the money's probably gone long before this time. It's eighteen miles over there, and you'll waste your time and strength."

But he thought twenty-five dollars was worth taking some chances on, and he hitched up his best horse and started. He thought he was driving about six miles an hour, but he covered the eighteen miles, part of the way over a very hilly road, in just an hour and a half.

Almost as soon as he got in sight of the cemetery, his eye caught the flutter of paper, and there lay the bills, just where he left them. He thinks it paid him pretty good mileage for his 36 miles extra travel, but he won't swap that horse with any of his neighbors for a hundred and fifty to boot.

Stepped Into a Sweepings Hole.

To save trouble in the disposal of the sweepings of his grocery store at Fulton and Ashford streets, Brooklyn, Nicholas Hamcke cut a piece of planking five inches wide and twelve inches long from the floor and has regularly swept the dirt of the shop into the shallow cellar under the floor. The piece of planking was replaced after every cleaning up. The grocer's clerk had taken out the bit of planking as usual on 10 o'clock on Saturday evening, preparatory to sweeping up for the night, when Mrs. Thomas F. Gaynor, the wife of a Republican politician of the Twenty-sixth ward, entered with her arms full of bundles, to buy some groceries. She weighs about 170 pounds and walks slowly. She did not see the trap, which is a few feet from the store entrance, and she put her right foot into the hole.

Her leg sank up to the knee and was wedged fast.

When she felt her foot sinking she threw the parcels out of her arms, stretched out her hands and caught hold of a stool at the counter, which prevented her from losing her balance.

"Get a saw," she said and cut away the boards."

The grocer ran for a saw and cut away another section of the planking, freeing the imprisoned limb, and then lifted Mrs. Gaynor up so that she might sit down on the stool. By this time her knee was very badly swollen and she was suffering intense pain. She sent a messenger for Dr. Senior, her family physician, who assured her that her knee was not broken, and with the assistance of the physician and some friends she reached her home at 33 Ashford street.

Whig and Courier

BY BOUTELLE BROTHERS.

All business letters should be addressed to Boutelle Brothers, and communications intended for publication should be addressed: "Editor of Whig and Courier."

THURSDAY, SEPT. 9, 1897.

Senator Sherman has again contributed to the unhappiness of his traducers. He has announced that he will take part in the Ohio campaign just at a time when certain newspapers are pointing out an imaginary revolt in the Republican ranks in that State.

Ex-Governor Altgeld denounces the government as corrupt and oppressive and then declares that existing ills will continue until the government enlarges its duties to include ownership of the railroads, telegraphs and the mines, etc. But then no one expects Altgeld to be consistent as he preaches free silver and collects his rent in gold. The surest way of securing better government is to see to it that men like Altgeld have no part in it.

The rumor is again started that Senator Gorman, of Maryland, will soon issue a letter announcing his intention of retiring from public life. Some of his close friends maintain that the Senator has for a long time desired to be relieved from the cares of official position, but the greater preponderance of the people treat the report as a baseless one. Should the report be true it will be regarded as tantamount to a confession on the part of the heretofore great political leader in Democratic politics that the chances of Democratic success are practically hopeless.

Senator Tillman was delivering a speech at Rochester, New York, the other day when the bugler on a tally-ho blew a loud blast, drowning the voice of the South Carolina statesman. This so enraged him that he turned in the direction of the offender and shouted:

"Witness the disgusting things that faith, abetted by the gold bugs is continually foisting upon us. Such an ulippage as that is a disgrace to our fair land. It is the vehicle to carry the rich, the slave drivers of our land.

After this outburst Tillman felt better and proceeded with his speech. It then transpired that the offending vehicle was the one secured by the managers of the meeting to give the visitor a drive about the city and he meekly mounted the seat amid the laughter of the people. So it seems that Tillman has joined the slave drivers.

How Bryan Secured Fusion.

Lincoln, Nebraska, despatch to the New York says: The State campaign in Nebraska is formally on. Considerable animation is being exhibited on both sides, but the hurrah that has been made by the silver press throughout the country about the harmony of the triangular silver convention is the most groundless fake that has been contributed by the silver element. In this State since Bryan commenced his remarkable crusade. Their "promotion" committee has seen to it that the most exaggerated statements of the meeting were sent out and careful censorship was employed to suppress the details that would reveal a very evident opposition to the fusion arrangements.

The convention of the three silver parties was creditable enough, but the enthusiasm and attendance was not to be compared to the convention of last year, when more than double the number were in Lincoln. The triangular convention report prepared for the silver press sent out the most glowing descriptions concerning the harmony and ease with which the conventions got together in the interest of silver, but the facts are that it was the hardest work the silver leaders of the State have had for years to keep the varied interests together, and time and time again motions were made in each of the three bodies to proceed to the nomination of a candidate of its own, peculiar faith, regardless of the interests of silver and the desires of the other conventions.

As evidence of the hard work it was to accomplish fusion the fact may be cited that W. J. Bryan, Senator Allen, Gov. Holcomb, Jerry Simpson, Senator Teller, Gen. Weaver, Congressman Hartman, of Montana, and Cyclone Davis of Texas, together with more than one thousand prominent silver men from all parts of the State, labored for more than twenty-four consecutive hours to effect the amalgamation. When it was finally accomplished, Mr. Bryan declared that he was more exhausted than he had been at any time since the silver campaign was begun a year ago. He had scarcely had time to eat a meal and had not closed his eyes. This was true not only of the leaders of this and other States who were managing the fusion delegates, but also of nearly the whole convention. From the time the three conventions convened, Wednesday at noon, they were not permitted to take a recess of more than one hour until a candidate had been named.

The leaders had done much shrewd planning in advance. They realized better than the opposition the nature of the undertaking before them. In the first place there was plain evidence of independence on the part of the delegates to all the conventions. The spirit that kept the men of different political faiths in the silver ranks last year was wanting this year. The Populists were clambering for the nominee. They pointed to the great number of Democrats who have been put in office in the State by Populist votes, and to the manner in which they have boosted Bryan and other silver leaders to the great cost of their party organization. This, too, when they outnumber the Democrats three to one in Nebraska. The Democrats declared that the Populists could accomplish nothing without their support, and behind both political giants the little band of silver Republicans raised their weak voices in protest, and insisted that they should have at least a crumb, which was more than than they had ever got before.

The conference committee of the leading silver men at this city two weeks before the convention prepared a plan to silence the independent fellows in all parties. They caused to be circulated reports to the effect that members of the Republican National Committee, in conjunction with the National Committee of the National Democratic party, had come to the State with unlimited capital furnished by the opponents of bimetallism and were quietly putting it where it would do the most work in preventing harmony and eventual fusion in the State triangular convention. They openly declared that Senator John M. Thurston and the Hon. J. Sterling Morton were travelling in the State to promote this distribution of funds to the confusion of the silver men.

They announced that the plan of the opposition was to buy just a few delegates in each county and pledge them to oppose, by one means or another, any plan to fuse. The silver leaders followed this up by asserting that any delegate who raised his voice against the triangular convention nominee, for whatever alleged purpose, would prove himself one of the tools purchased with the funds of the opposition.

When the delegates commenced to arrive in the capital they were met by well selected reception committees, consisting mostly of State officials, and their assistants. The duty of these committees was to stay with their delegates, to talk to them of the fusion plans, and tell them blood and thunder stories of the pile of gold bug money that was being circulated in Lincoln to contaminate the delegates. The tendency was to brand any delegate who was at all inclined to be independent or to oppose the plans previously fixed by Mr. Bryan and other State leaders as a tool of the opposition. This really scared many Middle-of-the-Road men.

When the conventions were organized the bulldozing went even further. All the presiding officers had been arranged by the Lincoln ringsters, and they were prepared to act quickly. Men were stationed in different parts of all the halls and the moment a delegate gave any sign of resisting the committee plans he was assaulted with such taunts as "How much did J Sterling pay you?" "How long have you been a goldbug?" "Thought you were elected a delegate to a silver convention." "Get out of the hall if you want to betray your friends."

This was kept up until the men who are as sincere silver advocates as William Jennings Bryan, and who merely wanted to assert their honest convictions that this or that candidate was the stronger, or the weaker, were forced to be silent at the risk of being stamped as political traitors.

When the independent sentiment became too strong in any hall, Bryan was rushed into that particular convention, and his presence and stage play oratory were depended on to silence all opposition. It really did cause such enthusiasm that the voice of the opposition was drowned in the hurrah for Bryan. The silver leader went so far in the bulldozing tactics personally that at 10 o'clock on the night of the 1st he rushed into the Populist convention (having been hurriedly sent for), where Will T. McGuire of Fernas county, was opposing the proposition of the silver leaders to have the matter of nominations settled by a committee of three from each convention, and in a furious manner, from the platform, shaking his finger at McGuire, screamed: "Woe unto the man who dares stand in the way of a union of our forces at this time."

This was followed by more violent language and worse demonstrations. McGuire and his friends were considerably taken aback by this exhibition, but as he has been a constant silver man and a leading citizen of his community for many years, he stood his ground. He asserted with considerable fire that as far as he was concerned the presence of Bill Bryan was not needed in the Populist party. As a reward for his fidelity to liberty of speech and honest conviction, McGuire was not recognized again by the chairman, and was hooted at by the fellows placed by the silver ring among the farmers for that purpose.

There is no disputing the fact that Bryan's personal efforts in the convention had more to do with the result than all the other combinations together, but he has provoked more hard feeling than was ever known between the various silver advocates in Nebraska. The silver ring had carefully arranged everything to influence the country delegates to their way of thinking. Within a minute after the chairman of each convention was seated a motion was made in each by a gang man that the convention adjourn at the end of one hour to proceed to the Capitol campus and hear speeches by the silver leaders. This was jimmed through; consequently when the hour was up adjournment followed, no matter what business was being considered.

With all this shrewd work the conventions were exactly twenty-seven hours in selecting a candidate. This is how fusion fused so beautifully in Bryan's home, and this is how "united" the silver forces of the State are.

MYSTERIOUS CASE.

Probably Fatal Shooting Affair at Hyde Park, Mass.

Victim Claims to Have Been Held Up by Two Men.

Hyde Park, Mass., Sept. 8.—A mysterious and probably fatal shooting affair occurred here about midnight. Michael Leonard a middle aged man who, it is thought, lived at 70 Kossuth street, Providence, was shot in the abdomen, and was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital in a dangerous condition. James A. Cronnick of this town is in custody on suspicion of having shot Leonard. The shooting occurred on Water street. Up to 10 o'clock this morning little was known of the circumstances.

Two residents of Eastern Avenue, William Iron and John H. Frazier, heard two shots fired a few minutes before midnight. They ran towards the locality, from which the reports came, together with one or two others who happened to be on the streets in the vicinity. Near where Eastern Avenue and Water street meet, a man who afterwards proved to be Michael Leonard, was found. He was suffering from a bullet hole in his abdomen. As soon as the police were informed of the shooting, Dr. Holmes, the town physician was called. He worked over Leonard for sometime, and succeeded in extracting the ball, which was from a revolver.

The ball had penetrated the intestines, and Dr. Holmes thought it doubtful if the man could recover. At 2 a. m. he was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital.

The police promptly began an investigation. Leonard was unable to tell who his assailant was, as the latter had fled by the time that Iron and Frazier reached the scene. They reported that previous to the shooting they heard a dog bark. Two shots were fired almost immediately after. They also said that Jas. A. Cronnick had visited them, and had left for home at 11.45, a few minutes before the shooting.

Cronnick had been drinking and he had his dog with him.

Cronnick, after his arrest, denied that he did the shooting. He said he reached home, which is not far from where Leonard was found, before the shots were fired. The police are searching for the revolver with which Leonard was shot. Iron and Frazier, are held as witnesses.

This afternoon, it was stated that Leonard had told an officer before he was taken to the hospital that he was held up by two men, and that one shot him. He could not give any description of the men. Leonard is about 30 years old.

PORTLAND CITY OFFICIALS.

A Large Party on a Visit to Boston.

Portland, Sept. 8.—A party consisting of 50 of the Portland city government left by the 7 o'clock train this morning for Boston, where they will be the guests of the Boston city fathers today and tomorrow. The makeup of the crack ball team which is to cross bats with the Boston city government team is as follows:

Councilman Brown, catcher; Alderman Moore, pitcher; Councilman Gerrish, first baseman; Auditor Sanborn, second base; Councilman Dougherty, third base; Councilman Driscoll, shortstop; and Councilmen Barker, Corey and Bryson, fielders.

Among the prominent city officials and ex-officials who were in the party were City Clerk Dyer, Commissioner of Public Works Fernald, City Messenger MacGowan, Superintendent of Streets Staples, Assessors Lefavor and Mallett, Chief Engineer Eldridge, City Solicitor Morrill, City Physician Smith, City Marshal Sylvester, Liquor Agent Douglass, Supt. of School Buildings Bowen, Buildings Inspector Ward, Electrician Cummings, ex-Mayor Libby and ex-Alderman McGowan.

Warmly Received in Boston.

Boston, Sept. 8.—About half a hundred robust statesmen and citizens of Portland alighted from the 10.16 train in the Union station this forenoon and were at once welcomed to the official hospitality of Boston by a committee, headed by Aldermen Lott, Berwin, Presho and W. J. Donovan.

All of the Forest City pilgrims wore white badges. Two special cars were in waiting and carried the visitors to the Revere House.

After the guests had registered they boarded the special cars again and enjoyed their first ride through the subway. Shortly after noon luncheon was served at the Revere House. The entire party will witness the game today between the Boston and St. Louis nines. At 6.30 o'clock a banquet will be served at the Revere House, and at 8 the guests will go to the Bowdoin square theatre.

Tomorrow there will be a harbor trip and a ball game and fish dinner at New Downer Landing. The party will return to Portland at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening.

IN ANNUAL CONVENTION.

Massachusetts Prohibitionists Meet at Boston—The Ticket.

Boston, Sept. 8.—The 27th annual convention of the Massachusetts Prohibition party, was held in Y. M. C. A. hall, today. At 10.30 o'clock, Frank M. Forbush, chairman of the state committee, called the 150 delegates to order, and the call for the convention was read by Secretary F. W. Clark. Prayer was then offered by Rev. John Graham, of Westford.

W. W. Nash, of Worcester, was elected temporary chairman.

F. W. Clark, of Boston, was then elected temporary secretary, and committees were chosen.

During the retirement of the committee on credentials, Wolcott Hamlin, of Amherst, made a vigorous address in which he attacked the liquor traffic and condemned many ministers of the gospel, who, he said, were muzzled by their wealthy congregations, who were engaged in the liquor traffic and that the ministers were afraid to speak out on that account.

The committee on permanent organization then reported the following list of officers, who were unanimously elected:

Permanent chairman, Rev. A. B. Coates, of Beverly; secretary, F. W. Clark, of Boston; assistant secretaries, Rev. F. M. White, of Hingham, and Wilbur D. Moon, of Lynn.

Rev. Mr. Coates was introduced and addressed the convention at some length.

Governor—Prof. J. Bascom, Williamstown.

Lieut. Governor—Willard O. Wylie, Beverly.

Secretary of State—Edwin Sawtelle, Brockton.

Treasurer—Robert C. Habberly, Hyde Park.

Auditor—Herbert M. Small, Templeton.

Attorney General—Wolcott Hamlin, Amherst.

BROWN-DRESSER.

A Social Wedding at Newport Wednesday.

Newport R. I., Sept. 8.—The wedding of Mr. John Nicholas Brown and Miss Nathalie Dresser, daughter of the late Col. Geo. W. Dresser, United States army, and grand-daughter of the late Daniel Leroy, took place at Trinity church at noon today in the presence of a large number of guests from New York, Boston, Providence and Newport. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Henry C. Potter, D. D., Bishop of New York, assisted by Rev. Geo. J. Magill, rector of Trinity church, Newport, Rev. Emory H. Porter, rector of Emmanuel church, Newport, and Rev. D. D. Richards, of St. John's church, Providence. There was no bridesmaid. Mr. Horace Blaney, of New York, acted as best man. The ushers were Messrs. Howard Gardiner Cushing of Newport, J. De Forest Danielson, of Boston, Elisha Dyer, Jr., of Newport, Jas. Howland Hunt of New York, Harold Fitzgerald, of Brookline, and D. Berkeley Updike of Boston.

Following the ceremony at Trinity church a wedding breakfast was given. Mr. Brown, the groom, is a member of a well known Rhode Island family, being the son of the late John Carter Brown, and connected with Brown and Ives, of Providence, who have been identified with business interests in this state for a hundred years or more, and whose representatives have given not only the name, but generous gifts to Brown University and to other institutions of learning and charities in the state.

Mr. Brown himself, last winter, made possible the erection of a handsome public library in the city of Providence, by his gift of $200,000, and has contributed largely to religious and charitable objects. He has been identified with Republican politics in this state, being one of the presidential electors who cast the vote of Rhode Island for Harrison and Morton in 1888, and is looked upon as a prospective governor of the state.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Won the St. Leger Stakes.

London, Sept. 8.—Mr. J. Gubbins' bay colt, Galtee More, winner of the Derby, won the St. Leger stakes at the second day's racing today of the Doncaster September meeting.

Lord Rosebery's Chelandry second and J. R. Keene's St. Cloud II. third. The horse Galtee made the running at a slow pace from St. Cloud II. and Galtee More till fairly in line for home, when Galtee More drew to the front and won by three quarters of a length. The time was 3 minutes, 11 1-5 seconds. The betting prior to the race was 10 to 1 on Galtee More.

It Was the Deputy Governor.

Berlin, Sept. 8.—Referring to the news received on Monday last from Sydney, N. S. HANGED FOR MURDER.

Governor Refused to Interfere in Case of Perry

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 8.—[illegible] hanged for the murder of [illegible] Lancer [illegible] Decatur today. The execution took place on a gallows in the yard of the DeKalb county jail. The doomed man was pale but cool and collected to the last. On the scaffold he declared his innocence of the crime of murder and reiterated his statement that he killed Lancer to protect the sanctity of his home. The drop fell at 11.43 a. m.

Horace Steven Perry was conducting a small grocery business in Atlanta when he committed the crime for which he paid the penalty on the gallows. To supplement the family's income, Mrs. Perry took boarders at their home on [illegible] avenue, and among these was [illegible] Lancer, a young theological student. The domestic relations of the Perrys were not happy. Perry had become infatuated with a woman of questionable character.

In the troubles that arose from this Lancer became involved and was shot and mortally wounded by Perry in the court house at Decatur on Monday, March 8. After lingering for a few days, Lancer died. Both men were under arrest when the shooting occurred; Perry had been taken into custody at Decatur to which place Perry had followed Lancer for the avowed purpose of avenging an insult to his wife. Perry declared that Lancer had estranged Mrs. Perry.

Lancer strenuously denied that he had committed the assault [illegible] and before his death made a statement in which he said Perry was angry because he [illegible] told Mrs. Perry of Perry's alleged relations with other women. Perry was tried at a special term of the DeKalb superior court at Decatur on Tuesday, April 27 and convicted.

The case was appealed to the supreme court, which refused to grant a new trial.

Strong pressure was then brought to bear upon Gov. Atkinson to save the condemned man, but after granting a respite to allow himself time to investigate the case, the governor refused to interfere.

Determined to Come to This Country.

Washington, Sept. 8.—In his last report to the surgeon general of the marine hospital service Sanitary Inspector Brunner at Havana, comments on the number of persons who apply for certificates to go to the United States who are not admissible under the regulations. He gives the following illustration.

"I found one family who applied for certificates to go to Tampa, Fla., having papers, which stated that they were born in the province of Pinar Del Rio, and on being questioned stated that they had lived in the country all their lives until two years ago when they came to the city. They had never had yellow fever. When told that they could not go to Tampa they went away, only to return a few days after bearing an official statement that they were born in the city of Havana and resided here for some time. They were again rejected, when a physician's certificate was furnished that he had attended them during an attack of yellow fever. They were then rejected for the third time. This is but one of many cases and is described to demonstrate the difficulty of the work here, the persistency of the people to transgress the sanitary laws and the facility with which persons can get official papers to suit the requirements of the occasion."

Dr. Brunner says that yellow fever has increased slightly over the week previous.

Many Public Bequests

Quincy, Mass., Sept. 8.—The will of the late Chas. T. Wilder, of Wellesley was admitted to probate in this city this morning. It contains many public bequests, and over $100,000 is left to charitable and educational institutions.

The sum of $10,000 each is left to the American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions, the Armenian Missionary Association, Roberts College of Constantinople, the Armenian School for Girls at Constantinople, Colorado College at Colorado Springs, Whitman College at Wallawalla, Wash., Carleton College, Northfield, Mass.

The sum of $5,000 each is left to Kimball Academy, Meriden, Conn., and to Mary Hitchcock Hospital at Hanover, N. H.

In a codicil, dated July 27, 1897, Mr. Wilder bequeathed the sum of $15,000 to the trustees of Amherst College, for the purchase of land for an observatory.

The sum of $10,000 is also left to the Mount Hermon School for Boys at Northfield.

John L. Arrested at Biddeford

Biddeford, Sept. 8.—John L. Sullivan, who was here last evening with his company, was arrested before the performance by Deputy Sheriff Goldthwait who served papers in a civil suit brought against Sullivan and his dresser W. H. Cowan, at the instance of George H. Potts, a Lewiston hackman, who had trouble with Sullivan and his companion over a hack bill as mentioned in yesterday's Associated Press despatches. The suit is for $1,000. Thomas O'Neil of Portland, and Dr. Huntoon, of Buxton, formerly of Boston, furnished bonds for Sullivan's appearance at the September term of the supreme court at Alfred, and the company left for Portland today.

STILLWATER PARK

Is on Stillwater Ave., only one mile from the Post Office, and contains over 1,300,000 square feet of the best building land in Bangor, high, dry and overlooking the city and country for miles. The title was examined by J. T. Bowler, of the Registry of Deeds office, Bangor, and pronounced perfect. This tract has a large frontage on one side of Stillwater Ave. and on both sides of Hamlin Ave., the new boulevard we are constructing through the property. All the cross streets intersecting Hamlin Ave. are extensions of city streets already laid out and built upon. In the centre of this tract is a beautiful grove which we are now improving and shall present to the city for a park.

Don't fail to secure a HOUSE LOT at STILLWATER PARK.

Prices only $21 each, $3 down, $1 weekly.

DON'T WAIT FOR THE OPENING. YOU CAN BUY LOTS NOW.

Our agents will be on the land to show the property every day. Go early and secure your lot before the rush on the opening day and while the present prices hold good. The way to make money fast in real estate is to get in just ahead of the "boom" in the right place. This is your chance, don't miss it. Dollars dwindle down to dimes, and dimes melt away to nothing. If the dimes, quarters and half dollars which slip through your fingers were applied regularly, week by week, a home would be yours in no time. Buy now.

A SURE ROAD TO WEALTH

is in small savings. It is the duty of every working-man to save something; and no man, especially with a family dependent upon him can be truly independent unless he has a few dollars reserved for the time of need. While reprehensible carelessness as to the expenditure of money will make a rich man poor, a wise economy will almost as certainly make a poor man rich.

LAND IS THE SUREST, SAFEST INVESTMENT.

It can't burn up, no one can steal it, and unlike stocks and bonds which go up one day and down the next, land in or near a growing city is always increasing in value. There are thousands of people rich today simply because they owned land near some one of our New England cities and held on to it until it came into active demand for house lots. And we can safely venture the prediction that there is not a foot of vacant land within 2 miles of Bangor Post office but which will be worth all the way from double to ten times its present value inside of five years. Every man in Penobscot County should own a piece of land in Bangor; it's a sure safe investment and can't get away from you. A few dollars invested in one of our lots will be laying the foundation of a home or future capital for many a young man in Penobscot County. See that you are one of them; young man be alive to your own interests; fathers start your sons in the world with one of our lots for a nest egg. It is better than putting pennies in the savings bank for them to spend as soon as they are old enough to draw them out. Only $1.00 a week! And think what that means to you in the future!

Saloon Keeper in Glib Defence.

The only alleged excise violator arrested in the New York Vendetta on Sunday was Patrick J. McGowan, of 427 Sixth avenue. Policemen Conway and Callan got drinks there which were duly checked and paid for both. The arrest was made on the worn out complaint by the police that they were not bona fide guests of the hotel. McGowan readily and evidently expected some such thing, for when he was asked to plead by the clerk of the Jefferson market court, he dictated this statement:

"I admit that I paid the officers two glasses of beer and two sandwiches, for which they paid me 20 cents. I understood that under the decisions of the special sessions court, I had the right to sell a sandwich with the glass of beer, and I claim that in doing so, I did not violate the law. I therefore plead not guilty." I, said the sandwiches before serving the beer."

Magistrate Hedges smiled as he read the plea.

"You had this all memorized before you got here, eh?" he said to McGowan.

The prisoner pretended not to understand.

"This defence was drawn by a lawyer and you committed it to memory," said the magistrate, "to use on occasion required?"

"That's about right," said McGowan.

"A good way to beat an attorney out of a fee," commented the magistrate. McGowan smiled. He was discharged.

CONFIDENCE RESTORED.

Louisiana Board of Health in Full Control of the Situation.

Yellow Fever at Biloxi Believed to be Malaria.

New Orleans, Sept. 8.—The Louisiana Board of Health is today in full control of the situation. Although perfect arrangements have been made for the prompt report of either yellow fever or suspicious cases up to 10 o'clock today, there has not been a single case reported to the board and they frankly declare there will be no more sickness resultant virulent, types unless imported. In spite of New Orleans' clean bill of health, however, towns in Louisiana and Mississippi continue to declare a quarantine in this city, however, confidence has entirely returned.

The raising of the quarantine against Bay points and the Pass has the effect today of driving hundreds into the city because they did not care to be held up in these places indefinitely if sporadic cases of fever should appear. Among those who have been detained at the Bay and the Pass for several days are many prominent business men who are all glad to get back to the city.

Owing to the fact that the operators at coast cities have been greatly overworked and almost smothered with private messages, general news from these points comes in slowly. No advices have been received at this writing of the appearance of further cases at Biloxi, but in the immediate vicinity of Point Cadet, the conditions are such as to invite an increase in the number of cases. In the meantime stringent measures are being taken to confine the disease there.

Mayor Henry Howard has issued a proclamation to the people of Biloxi announcing three cases of yellow fever and three suspects; he says they are all isolated and that no facts will be withheld.

Residents of North Back Bay have appealed to the Biloxi council asking that the quarantine be relaxed so that they may secure supplies. They say they are suffering. Biloxi people are impatient to have Dr. Guiteras and other experts visit them so as to determine if the fever a Biloxi be really yellow fever.

The Biloxi Outbreak.

New Orleans, Sept. 8.—A despatch from Biloxi at 10.30 says that the three cases of yellow fever reported last night are the only ones that have so far developed at or around Biloxi. The people there are quiet and the outlook is for no excitement.

Dr. Guiteras, the government expert, arrived in Ocean Springs this morning. Dr. Sheby, who attended the Tillman case in Ocean Springs, is reported sick with fever at Perkinston.

Precautions in Illinois.

Springfield, Ills., Sept. 8.—Secretary Egan, of the state board of health, last night said he had secured the services of ex-Commissioner John R. Neally, of Chicago, and Edward Bartlett, of this city, to proceed to Cairo, Ill., with instructions to thoroughly inspect all northbound trains and steamers and quarantine all suspected yellow fever cases.

Believed to be Malaria.

Washington, Sept. 8.—This afternoon Surgeon General Wyman received the following reassuring telegram in answer to a message asking Dr. Lonsdale, president of the board of health, at Biloxi, Miss., concerning the report in the morning papers of the yellow fever epidemic at that place.

"Biloxi, Miss., Sept. 8.—I have been reasons to believe from available party that it is simply malaria."

OBJECTS TO TALKING.

Consul General Fitz Hugh Lee Arrives in New York.

New York, Sept. 8.—Consul General Fitz Hugh Lee, accompanied by Hilson, Fitz Hugh, Jr., arrived here from Havana on board the Seguranca this morning. The general said that he had been suffering from biliousness for some time past but he felt very much better after the sea trip. He looked to be in perfect health and the only change in his appearance was that he had shaved off his goatee.

When asked whether he would return to Cuba or not the general shook his head and said:

"I cannot answer that. I would rather not talk on Cuba affairs until I make my report in Washington."

In speaking of the case of Evangelina Cossio Cisneros, the general said:

"The young woman is now confined in Casa Reconcentrado. She has never been tried and I do not think that it was ever intended that she should be banished. The stories of her ill-treatment are much exaggerated and were it not for the habit which has been raised about her the girl would probably have been released long ago. In fact I was given to understand that her name was on the pardon list. She has comfortable quarters and is treated as well as possible under the conditions.

"There is a good deal of suffering in Cuba, but the Americans, numbering about 1,400, are being cared for from the fund of $50,000 and up to the present time about $16,000 have been expended."

"Is there any sign of business improving or a change for the better in Cuba?" asked the reporter.

"No, I am sorry to say there is not," replied the general.

"And there will not be any improvement until the war is ended."

"When will that be, general?"

To this last question, Gen. Lee replied in Spanish, a free translation of which is "That is too much for me, I cannot say."

Gen. Lee and young Fitz Hugh Lee will go to West Point today to see another son, George M., who is at the military academy there and tomorrow they will leave for Washington.

Among the other passengers on board were Robert L. Oliver, U. S. Consul at Merida, Mexico, and George W. Fishback, of this city.

ALL OVER THE STATE.

A young man passed through Gardiner on the east bound express Monday afternoon, who was evidently not born to be killed by a railroad train. As the train passed out of the Union station, Portland, he attempted to board it, making a miss and was thrown under the cars. He cleared the wheels and the train passed over him. Strange to say he was not touched and barring the shock was all right. His name was Davis.

It has been stated on good authority that Varney Putnam, the star tackle of the Colby football team for the past two years, will not return to college this fall. Mr. Putnam was a strong player and his loss will make a weak place in the line which will be hard to fill.

About noon Tuesday an alarm was rung from box 35 on the Plains, Waterville, which was occasioned by the upsetting of an oil stove in Jules Lambert's house at the corner of Gray and Summer streets. The firemen made a good run but the fire had been subdued before the department arrived on the scene.

The fall term of the Coburn Classical Institute at Waterville opened Tuesday morning. The entering class numbers about 60 and is the largest in the history of the school. Several new departments have been added to the school for the coming year, and the prospects of the institution were never brighter than at present.

Amos F. Gerald says that the newspaper talk about his moving to Lewiston because he has been elected general manager of the Lewiston & Auburn electric railroad is all bosh. He will keep right on living at Fairfield and will be at home nearly as much of the time as he is at present. Already Mr. Gerald is general manager of the Bangor, Orono & Oldtown, the Brunswick & Topsham and the Kittery, Portsmouth & York roads and has been putting the most of his time in on the task of looking after the interests of those lines. The new position of general manager of the Lewiston & Auburn will not keep him away to any great degree of the time. Mr. Gerald says that the Lewiston & Auburn road will extend its line about 35 miles next year.

J. H. Cogan & Co. have begun the work of putting a new roof over the Senate chamber at the Capitol. They expect to complete the work in about four weeks.

Some of the bathers at Old Orchard received quite a scare Monday by the appearance of an unwelcome marine visitor. As the weather was decidedly warm there were quite a number of people enjoying a dip in the surf, when suddenly some one saw the fin of a large fish gliding swiftly through the water in the direction of the beach. "Look out for the shark!" was the cry raised and then perhaps the bathers did not hustle for dry land. The shark, for such the fish proved to be, was not a man eater and probably would not have troubled the bathers had they remained in the water. He was simply chasing a small school of fish and in his eagerness to capture them he came very near being stranded in shoal water. He was frightened, however, in time to prevent capture and the fish promptly put out to sea again.

Napoleon Collard, a young man who served a sentence at the Portland work all for stealing a ring at George Twamley's jewelry store in Saco some time ago, was arrested Saturday night by Deputy Marshal Mogan, on complaint of a resident of Lincoln street. Collard had been making himself a nuisance as he was under the influence of liquor, and without waiting for an invitation, forced himself into one of the houses on Lincoln street. When ordered to get out he refused point blank. The excuse he offered to the officer was that he got into the wrong house by mistake. He was locked up at the police station, and when the key was turned on him he began making a racket in his cell and kept it up most of the night. In court he pleaded guilty and was given a chance to serve 90 days at the Portland work jail without a fine.

The West Paris corn factory will start up next week but cannot do much business until is more developed. Many pieces of corn are very light while other pieces are late. About 25 acres that were planted last spring were afterwards sowed to Hungarian grass seed in consequence of the cold, wet spring. A heavy frost by the 12th of this month would ruin the corn crop of this year and the fodder would be all the farmers would realize.

The interesting fact has lately developed that George Hunt, the blind man, has received partial support from the town of Waldoboro for years and for whom the town paid out $60 this year for board after his injury last winter, has property in cash, notes, etc., to the amount of more than a thousand dollars. Through the instrumentality of the selectmen Mr. Hunt has been put under guardianship and will be supported from his own resources.

Lightning has done considerable damage of late in this State. A horse owned by Frank Douglass, of Fryeburg, was killed by lightning recently. A recent thunder shower at Byron killed a steer for A. S. Young in his pasture within 15 rods of his house. Lightning struck the buildings of Solomon Ritchie in Winterport, severely prostrating Mr. Ritchie by the shock. A barn on the farm of George Whitman, of North Woodstock, was struck recently and a calf and hog killed.

Never in Farmington history, with the exception of the years of rebuilding directly after the big fire, has there been so much building in progress as at the present. It has been estimated that $50,000 is being expended, for that purpose in the town and the estimate probably could be raised $10,000 more and still be within limits. The building boom is by no means confined to Farmington village but extends all over the town.

Bowdoin College opens Thursday, the 14th, and work is being pushed rapidly on Appleton Hall to prepare it for the students. Superintendent Simpson expected to have the work all completed before this but the contractors for the doors and windows were unavoidably delayed, as it will be nip and tuck to get the building ready for occupancy by Saturday night, when the students, especially those rooming in Appleton, will be there en mass to follow their new quarters. Superintendent Simpson says that he shall open up for the boys even if he hasn't the finishing touches on. The plumbers are putting the water works right into that "mysterious underground room," where even now may be seen relics of some weird and sombre initiatory service. Mr. Simpson says that he found the arches which support the building all dressed in black and between two which are close together was a kind of judgment bench or throne, where, doubtless, many a Sophomore has rendered decisions equal to Dan Quixotes. The entering class will be small, less than sixty. The entrance examinations grow harder from year to year. The aim and purpose of the management is to secure only such students as have mental activity and previous training sufficient to make a liberal comprehensive education profitable.

Much amusement was afforded the passengers on a Union station trolley car in Portland Saturday afternoon, by a business like passenger who demanded a receipt for his fare. "Do you think I'm dishonest?" asked the conductor. "I don't know," replied the eccentric man. "I've never been on your car when it was crowded." After making many sarcastic remarks the conductor signed his name to the piece of paper handed him by the passenger. The receipt was worded as follows: "Received two cents from passenger riding from Elm street to Union station." On being asked why he wanted in receipt the chap said he was getting retired quarrelling with thoughtless conductors, who frequently asked for the necessary nickel after it had been paid. He also said that a few nights ago in Boston he had to go two passengers to prove that he had paid his fare. As the man was always placed in an embarrassing position on such occasions he adopted the receipt method in order to save further trouble in the future.

Way back in 1850 a Waterville man scratched his wife's name on bright new cent. He kept it in his pocket for some time but it finally got away and went into general circulation. A day or two ago in looking over some change he had received the gentleman ran across the very same penny and now has it put by for good.

Nat Cousens, who works at Deering's saw mill in Biddeford and lives above the lumber office, found a carrier pigeon early Sunday morning on the river bank and picked it up and carried it home. The bird was tired out. Attached to its legs was a band with the figures 1810. The tube in which messages are sent was also in position on one leg but upon opening the tube no message was found. Mr. Cousens has the bird and will keep it until he hears from the owner.

A man upon a ladder trying to force an entrance into one of the dental offices on Main street, Waterville, Tuesday morning, while the owner of the block was watching operations from below retold the old story of spring lock and keys inside.

Waldoboro has been having a blooming time the past week. A night blooming cereus occupies the post of honor in the American Express office and sets on a pedestal decorated with the American flag. In return for this distinction it unfolded Monday night 11 blossoms which were admired by a throng of visitors who numbered more than four hundred, but the next night the plant exceeded its former effort and displayed the unheard of number of 23 beautiful and fragrant flowers. The last night two more blossoms appeared. The plant is eleven years old and for four years has been a remarkable bloomer.

The very first actual work on the extension of the Moosom River electric railway from Sanford to Cape Porpoise, began Monday, when a large crew of men was set at work at the Old Falls, a point seven miles below Sanford, making preparations for the erection of the power station and the power station dam. The engineer's survey of the road, its entire length of 21 miles, was completed Saturday night.

A petition from the Saco River electric railroad has been presented the railroad commissioners, asking their approval of the location which is from Bonny Eagle through Standish to Saco. There is also a petition from the same company asking permission to cross the B. & M. R. R. at Saco, and the P. & R. R. R. at Bar Mills. The petition of the Rockland, Thomaston & Camden street railway for permission to cross the track of the Limerock railway in an extension of their line has been received.

Among other desirable accomplishments in a bicyclist is fast. On Cumberland street, Portland, there was one evening a whole family using the road for jubilation purposes. While they were waiting with bated breath to see what a fire cracker would do with it the can under which it was placed, a scorcher whizzed by and indicentally knocked the little light of the house hold a quarter of a block and nearly as could be estimated by the eye. The offender kept right on and aggravated his conduct by a mocking laugh. But the head of the family was something of a rider himself, and there was mounting in no haste. The wheel he bestrode was not built for a long-legged man or any other kind of a man, but he sent her along at a terrific clip, overhauled the scorcher and mopped things up with him till he looked like a supernumerated street sweeper. The private celebration had scarcely been resumed when another of the children was knocked over by a bicyclist, who made the mistake of thinking that it's possible for a youngster having a big time to be stationary for two consecutive seconds. But this rider sprang from his wheel, picked the little fellow up, bodied him and lolled him and apologized profusely, particularly to the old gentleman, whose fighting blood was by warm and who had commenced to swing a small section of scantling in a very threatening manner. The bicyclist speedily stilled the storm that he accompanied the father to the nearest drug store, where orange phosphates were the order. The moral adorning this tale stands out like a sore thumb.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and is made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

The State assessors were in session at their rooms Tuesday and transacted the routine business. They will hold sessions at Lincoln and Bangor this week and at Houlton and Caribou and possibly Iceland in Aroostook county next week.

And now it is a Damariscotta photographer who finds himself bothered because of having fooled with the 85 cent crayon artists. A good plan to follow is that of not ordering crayon portraits of strangers. As a rule the aforesaid strangers can file faster than Star Pointer can pace.

Secretary B. Walker McKeen attended the Oxford Pomona at East Hebron Tuesday. Wednesday he was to attend the Cumberland county fair at Gorham; Thursday forenoon will deliver the annual address at the Kennebec county fair at Readfield; Friday will attend the East Somerset fair at Hartland, and will try to have a rest at home Saturday.

The Winterport correspondent of the Belfast Age evidently takes pessimistic views, as he remarks: The special town meeting recently called for the purpose of uniting two of our rural school districts came out with the usual result of our town meetings. When they are called for the purpose of saving the town money they are defeated every time.

Arthur Boyd, of Prospect, had a narrow escape from a serious accident. He was at work with an auger that went by water power at his mill, and in some way the screws of the auger caught in his clothes over the abdomen. He realized his danger and just as the screws struck the flesh, his son John rushed at the gates of the mill and shut the power off. Mr. Boyd escaped with a small wound and his clothes badly torn.

Mrs. Capt. Hooper, of Calais, has brought suit against the Calais & St. Stephen Electric Street Railway Co. to recover $2,000 damages for injuries received by her while a passenger on one of the company's cars some two weeks ago. Mrs. Hooper claims to have received a severe shock on the date named in the west from the effects of which she has continued to suffer. The railway people will contest the case.

We feel sure trust must have struck the potato field of a State correspondent or else he has just discovered that potatoes sprouted under water will not yield abundantly. Anyhow he was in a somewhat irreconcilable mood when he wrote the following: "According to present crop prospects potatoes will only be served next winter at the tables of the wealthy and in the following manner: One teaspoonful of boiled, mashed, highly seasoned potato will be dished up to each guest in an individual butter plate, to be eaten with ardent thoughtfulness and a toothpick."

Sylvester Phinney, of Pittsfield, is engaged in blasting season's work on the highways at Isleau Haut. His work has been partly for the town and partly for the Isleau Haut Land Co., and other land owners on the island, in the past four years. Mr. Phinney has built ten miles of road in Isleau Haut at a cost of about $500 per mile. The roads are as a rule very hard to build, there being a very large amount of grading on ledges. Last year Mr. Phinney bought the schooner Young Ted and used her to some extent in his business, moving his teams, etc., to and from the island. He lately bought a handsome span of young work horses of Williston Grinnell, of Camden, and has taken them to the island.—Belfast Journal.

Pleasant Beach, near Rockland, had two unwelcome visitors Sunday in the form of two ugly-looking sharks which became entangled in the Rockland weirs. Mr. Rockland put out a new net Saturday night and, during Sunday noticed an unusual disturbance. He finally got the assistance of several of the cottagers, rowed out to the weir and found two sharks struggling in the meshes. The man-eaters were killed, brought ashore and found to weigh about 1,000 pounds. The feelings of a well known Rockland young man who had been swimming about in their immediate vicinity a few hours previously may be better imagined than described. A seal was also shot at the beach Sunday and in all it was a very exciting day.

Mr. Allison Shuman, of Rockland, has a carpenter's mallet which he considers something of a curiosity, on account of its attested age and the singular manner in which it was preserved. A mallet is of a hardy constitution, but, like some other people so blest, is generally put through at a pace that uses it up after a few years of hard knocks. The mallet was found by Mr. Shuman 37 years ago, when he was tearing down the old Emerson house at Togus, where the Soldiers' Home now is, which was at least 60 years old. He found the mallet between the ceiling of one of the rooms below and the chamber floor, and it just have lain there ever since the house was built. It was in good condition and Mr. Shuman has kept it so ever since. And it must be very nearly or quite a hundred years old, and perhaps the oldest carpenter's mallet in the country.

One strange feature of life at the municipal court room is the crowd which gathers daily, for no obvious reason, and thronges the corridors of the building. Not one in ten has any particular interest in the morning's business and 19 out of 20 have been there in the past as prisoners, etc. Yet they go and loiter around the court room or near the door leading to it their faces expressing the most intense satisfaction and indolent concern, happy in the thought that they may remain without danger of changing places with the unfortunate defendant on the other side of the railing. "Sometimes," said a policeman, "innocent persons are brought here and discharged. In four cases out of five these persons—especially if they are males—will show up within a week afterwards, and enact in to our role of visitors."—Exchange.

Stabbed the Iceman.

There was a fight early Monday morning in the saloon at 25 Bowery, New York, which is known as the Morgue, during which Frederick M. Solomon, of 10 Second street, who supplies ice to the place, was stabbed in the back. It is alleged, by Cornelius Kennedy, who, the police say, is known as the "Bowery Murderer." The title is not to be construed literally, as Kennedy received it for doing nothing more serious than engaging in any little scrap he was able to find.

According to the story told in the Essex Market Court, when the iceman went into the saloon he saw Kennedy beating an old man. When he interfered Kennedy said to him:

"You're only the iceman around here, and you don't cut much of it at that. Just mind your own business."

Solomon at this attacked Kennedy, who is alleged to have grabbed a butcher's knife from the bar and jagged it into Solomon's back. The barkeeper said that this was an outrage, as the iceman was his friend. The other frequenters of the place agreed with the barkeeper, and assailed Kennedy. When a policeman arrived Kennedy was bleeding from cuts in his face where the edge of heels had come in contact with it. He was arrested, and Solomon's wound was dressed by an ambulance surgeon, who found a cut, four inches long and one inch deep. Kennedy, who said he had no home, was arraigned in the Essex Market Court and held for trial on a charge of felonious assault.

Troop F

Capt George A Dodd, of Troop F Third U S cavalry, left for Pittsfield on the 4 30 afternoon train yesterday to join his command which was in camp there yesterday He was accompanied by his wife and children

A Kennebec Journal reporter is accompanying Troop F on the march from Bangor and in his story is the following

Approaching Carmel we were met by delegations and committees and "sich" who tendered to Lieut Tate the hospitality of the town The troop arriving here, went into camp in a field owned by Nathan Hopkins of Boston the use of which field was tendered by Mr Hopkins agent, Hon F M Simpson, State treasurer and a resident of this town The field is slightly elevated, very pleasantly located and convenient to water and healthy as well

The flower of the countryside was out to welcome us and right loyally did they do their work As soon as quarters were pitched a committee called upon Lieut Tate and informed him that the ladies of Carmel had determined upon tendering the troop a sort of banquet It is was a surprise to Lieut Tate and it nearly 'unhorsed' the big fellow This sort of entertainment the men had not met with before, and perhaps the Journal readers can better imagine how deeply gratified were the men

Mrs F M Simpson, wife of the State treasurer, was a visitor in the early part of the evening accompanied by Miss Simpson and other ladies of the town

At 6 30 the men took supper and that supper, without giving the menu in detail, was just what the best people in town had on their tables

Did you ever see a soldier eat cake and pie If you never have you missed a sight tonight A trooper would grasp a piece of cake gaze at it a minute, a glad light would come into his eye, for it was 'just like mother's'

If troopers will swear by the dear people of Carmel

Quite a crowd of spectators visited the camp tonight and watched guard mounting and dress parade

It is a charming night, a fitting one for the charming ladies of Carmel to pay their respects to the soldiers and they are doing it as I write

Orono News

Our Orono correspondent writes Mrs A G Ring, of Orono, who is quite seriously ill with a lung trouble, is reported as somewhat more comfortable Her youngest daughter, Mrs Sanborn, arrived from Minneapolis Wednesday morning

At St Mary's Catholic church, Orono, at 10 o'clock on Tuesday forenoon last, Edward H Mayo and Miss Ella T Pretto, both of Orono, were married in the presence of many friends, Rev Edmond Genereux, the pastor, officiating

The church was beautifully and specially decorated with flowers and potted plants for the occasion The bride was very tastefully gowned in white as was also her sister, the brides maid, Miss Bella Pretto

The groomsman was Mr George Mayo, a brother of the groom. The ushers were Messrs George E Thompson Timothy Sullivan Henry Pretto and Thomas Shatney At the close of the ceremony, after receiving the blessing of the Rev Father, the wedded pair took a carriage for Bangor, whence they went to Boston for a wedding trip, to be spent in part with the bride's brother and family. On their return they will reside in Orono Mr Mayo is enjoying a good position at the Eastern Manufacturing Co's plant in Brewer, and is well and favorably known, there as well as at home The bride has a host of friends who, with the relatives, also took pleasure in presenting many beautiful gifts and in wishing them both a long and happy life

Brewer City Affairs

At an adjourned meeting of the Brewer City Council Wednesday evening the following business was transacted

A petition for a sidewalk on the easterly side of School street was presented and referred

The street commissioner was instructed to remove the burdocks from the ditches beside the streets.

After a recess which was spent by the council in a session behind closed doors in the marshal's room, it was voted to postpone action on the fire alarm matter until the next meeting, and an order was passed for the purchase of coal by the treasurer for use in City Hall, the school houses and the alms house

THE COUNTRY CLUB.

Enjoyable Trip to the Club House Site at Pushaw.

Great Enthusiasm Over Project and Surprise at Work Already Done

Location of House a Charming One, so All Agree Who Have Seen It.

To say that the large number of people who went out to the site selected for the house of the country club at Pushaw lake yesterday afternoon were delighted with the location and delightfully surprised at the immense amount of work already accomplished, is only putting it mildly The run out by bicyclers by way of the bicycle path was most enjoyable, and those who drove, and there was a large number who did, had a pleasant journey The weather was delightful and it was an ideal day for a trip to the lake

About two hundred people had gathered at the lakeside by the last of the afternoon They had a good opportunity to enjoy the view to be had at the point and to examine the site for the club house which is to be erected It was the enthusiastic verdict that no mistake had been made in deciding upon that particular spot as it has numerous advantages and no drawbacks Many had perhaps expected to find a more path through the woods from the Orono road to the point, but instead discovered a fine boulevard winding through the woods and in surprisingly good condition as regards the roadbed

A crew of sixty men and many horses are at work on the road and great progress is being made in building The road is built high and is thoroughly ditched on both sides and will be when completed a most superb driveway A charming effect is secured by making it winding instead of straight The entrance is V shaped and the bicycle path is separated from the driveway by a white birch fence Before reaching the club house site a fine view is had of the lake, the road being quite near the water for some distance The road from the bicycle path to the entrance to the club grounds is being repaired and improved The plans for building, etc were explained and those familiar with the matter approved without reservation

After a time passed pleasantly refreshments were served and later the party returned by wheel and carriage after an enjoyable outing

It is a matter for congratulation that the plans have progressed so well that no mistakes have been made in the starting of this excellent project It promises to be the greatest success of any similar undertaking of a social nature ever known in the city or state The club house itself will be a handsome and commodious structure conveniently arranged and large enough to allow of entertaining a large number of people at one time Everybody is enthusiastic over the enterprise and willing to assist in any way, financially or otherwise Work will be begun in building the house in a very few days and it will be completed by the middle of October

WOODWARD-LYFORD

A Happy Wedding in Bangor on Wednesday

At noon on Wednesday Mr Charles E Woodward and Miss Marion I Lyford were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's father, Mr Thornton Lyford on Fifth street in the presence of a small party of relatives and immediate friends The floral decorations were very beautiful The prevailing color in the dining room was pink the parlor was in green and white and the hall in yellow

The ceremony was performed by Rev A E Kingsley, pastor of the First Baptist church Members of Pullen's symphony orchestra played some charming music for the occasion The bride wore a grey cloth travelling dress trimmed with crimson velvet and carried a bouquet of roses

Following the ceremony lunch was served by Mrs Mary Smith Lute and at 1 40 p m Mr and Mrs Woodward left for a wedding trip through the White Mountains and to Boston New York and other cities

The bride is a charming young lady and a graduate of Wellesley College She is very highly esteemed Mr Woodward is the junior member of the firm of Lyford & Woodward, hatters and furriers, one of the most prominent in Maine and a business man of much ability Mr and Mrs Woodward were the recipients of many beautiful presents On their return to Bangor they will live in the Hatch residence on North High street Many friends extend best wishes for a happy future

AMUSEMENTS

Middaugh's Musical Comedy Company

Middaugh's Musical Comedy Company on the programme announced a world of fun at the Opera House last night The proof reader was probably taking a siesta when the programme went to press for it was very evident to the small audience that the expression should have been "a world of hum" At Skeedunk the show would doubtless go gleefully, but its principal effect here was causing an exodus through the front door The entertainment was made up of two comedy skits, the latter of which part of the audience did not see as it was manifestly impossible to look clear over to the theatre from home, and a number of specialties, only one of which, some fairly good dancing by the Elliott brothers was worthy of mention

"A Breezy Time"

A pair of very capable light comedians will appear at the Opera House on Saturday, September 11th, in "A Breezy Time" They are E B Fitz and Kathryn Webster They are said to be no complished not only in comedy business, but also in singing The best part of it is that their performance is now Farce comedies have been on the road so long now that things that used to make us laugh are no longer able to do so It is with this fact well in mind that "A Breezy Time" is sent out on the road this season It has been thoroughly condensed and re-written since last year, and although the salient figures of 1895 and 1896 have been retained, enough new material has been injected into it to make it well worth seeing, even for a second time, it is said

At The Norombega.

The Navin Bros Company had another good sized audience at The Norombega last night and the entertainment and biscope pictures were received with customary favor There will be a change of programme this evening with pleasing specialties On Saturday a matinee performance will be given.

WISE MEN KNOW

It is folly to build upon a poor foundation, either in architecture or in health A foundation of sand is lonesome, and to deadon symptoms by narcotics or nerve compounds is equally dangerous and deceptive The true way to build up health is to make your blood pure, rich and nourishing by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla

Hood's Pills act easily and promptly on the liver and bowels Cure sick headache 25c

HAY CROP UNUSUALLY LARGE

Potato Crop Suffering Severely From Rust and Rot All Through the State

Secretary McKeen of the Maine State Board of Agriculture has issued a bulletin showing the following general average of crops in the state It gives the following statistics

Amount of hay crop 100 per cent condition of fruit, 47 per cent, condition of potato crop 46 per cent condition of corn crop sweet 97 per cent, yellow, 99 per cent per cent of grain to be fed or threshed 36

The potato crop is suffering severely from rust and rot throughout the entire state The hay crop will be unusually large In some counties the average reported is as high as 122 per cent and in only one county Aroostook, does it fall below 100 per cent

The bulletin shows upon the whole that outside of the hay crop the condition is not that of the average year

HAY CROP UNUSUALLY LARGE

Potato Crop Suffering Severely From Rust and Rot All Through the State

Secretary McKeen of the Maine State Board of Agriculture has issued a bulletin showing the following general average of crops in the state It gives the following statistics

Amount of hay crop 100 per cent condition of fruit, 47 per cent, condition of potato crop 46 per cent condition of corn crop sweet 97 per cent, yellow, 99 per cent per cent of grain to be fed or threshed 36

The potato crop is suffering severely from rust and rot throughout the entire state The hay crop will be unusually large In some counties the average reported is as high as 122 per cent and in only one county Aroostook, does it fall below 100 per cent

The bulletin shows upon the whole that outside of the hay crop the condition is not that of the average year
